

It was a good day I found you going my way,
The same destination, same declaration:
We're heaven-bound,
–And when I was lonely, deep in the valley,
When I was weak,
You were there standing by,
Waiting in the wings.

I started your fan club,
Chaired every meeting,
I bought the jersey,
I joined the cheer team.

AFTER ALL

I fell into a conversation I didn't plan to have,
Went from talking about the weather outside
To the pain buried deep inside.
It didn't take too long before the tears began to fall,
There I said it, there you said it,
We're broken and we can't hide.

Maybe I'm losing my mind,
Maybe I was bored, trying to pass the time.
They tell me to put the past behind,
Put the future on hold
'Cause now is the only time
That really matters.
After all this time,
We're finally honest/real,
After all this time,
We finally realize the truth,
After all.

This wasn't the talk that I'd been planning out for years,
I'd written out a script for us to use,
And I memorized the cues.
It didn't take too long before I completely lost control,
I lost the script, forgot the cues,
I'm broken, I had to lose.

Is honesty the antidote to everything that ails?
Then why's it have to hurt so much,
Despite the good intent?
I hope it won't take long before the wounds begin to heal,
Is surgery a life-saver?
They say that the truth sets free.

TIME IS AGAINST US

Time is against us.
(Wasn't it always?)
Please hold on to me.
(Haven't I always?)

My fear finds foes in every shadow,
My doubt unravels every battle plan,
And time is against us,
Please hold on to me.

ADAM'S SONG

Abel's blood was crying from the ground,
Cain had run away, could not be found,
Seth was born months later to the sound
Of Adam singing over Eve
While she labored:
